

① Background: Our children are losing their culture as they become more Americanized. They don't see how important it is to continue the traditions we brought with us when we had to leave our native country. Our children want to speak only English and dress and act like their American friends. But we are from a proud country with a long history, and they should respect and accept this.

yobog ySengon ue
PROMPT: Write the parents' argument to convince their children to keep their original heritage alive.
hacneque

Be sure to support your ideas clearly and with good reasons, and include a counterargument from the children's viewpoint.

① Background: Our children are losing their culture as they become more Americanized. They don't see how important it is to continue the traditions we brought with us when we had to leave our native country. Our children want to speak only English and dress and act like their American friends. But we are from a proud country with a long history, and they should respect and accept this.

PROMPT: Write the parents' argument to convince their children to keep their original heritage alive.

Be sure to support your ideas clearly and with good reasons, and include a counterargument from the children's viewpoint.

→NOTE: Use these revision guides to help you focus and easily get over 600 words.

REVISION FOCUS:

- 1) Do you have ONE overall argument with reasons, clearly stated in your thesis? Do your body paragraphs follow that thesis AND have some connection to each other?
- 2) Did you choose a good counterargument, explain it honestly, and refute it directly with support?
- 3) Do you have at least one quotation or paraphrase from the reading "Growing Up American"? that is clearly identified with quotation marks and/or an introductory phrase?
- 4) Consider who is listening to / reading your argument. Will your words convince that person?

Instructions: *Essays without this formatting will only be graded after you fix them.

1. In the top left corner, put your name at the top, the name of this class (ESL 315), the name of this assignment (At-Home Essay #4), and the date.
2. Write ONE good, complete essay of about at least 600 words. This writing must be typed and saved (.doc/.docx/.rtf) and submitted via D2L. It should be about 3 pages when finished.
3. Be sure to answer the question completely and stay on topic. Check very carefully for good vocabulary and correct grammar before you turn it in for a grade. Please do your own writing, checking and fixing.

4. CHECKLIST! Your at-home essay MUST have these things: ☐ an interesting title related to your thesis
☐ a short introductory paragraph w/ a good thesis statement clearly addressing the topic & giving an opinion
☐ well-developed body paragraphs that explain the thesis idea(s) and develop each part of it
☐ a counterargument/concession with full refutation, either in a single paragraph, or in some other format we've studied. *if you choose another format, you must have a conference with me and come with a full outline. ←
☐ quotation or paraphrase support, examples and clear explanations to develop/support each topic sentence
☐ a strong concluding paragraph with sentences that summarize, restate your idea, and finish the essay